

Biography

WEI XIONG is John H. Scully '66 Professor in Finance and Professor of Economics in the Department of Economics and Bendheim Center for Finance, Princeton University. He is also Academic Dean of School of Management and Economics, Chinese University of Hong Kong, Shenzhen, as well as Research Associate of the National Bureau of Economic Research. His research interests center on capital market imperfections, behavioral finance, digital economy, and Chinese economy. He has served as Co-Editor of Journal of Finance (the flagship journal of American Finance Association) in 2016-2022. He has received various awards, including 2018 China Economics Prize, 2014 Inaugural Sun Yefang Financial Innovation Award, 2013 NASDAQ OMX Award by Western Finance Association, and 2012 Smith Breeden Award (first prize) by American Finance Association. He was elected a Fellow of the Econometric Society in 2023. He received his Ph.D. in finance from Duke University in 2001, M.A. in physics from Columbia University in 1995, and B.S. in physics from University of Science and Technology of China in 1993.